

REDISTRICTING MAJORITY PROJECT

A program of the Republican State Leadership Committee

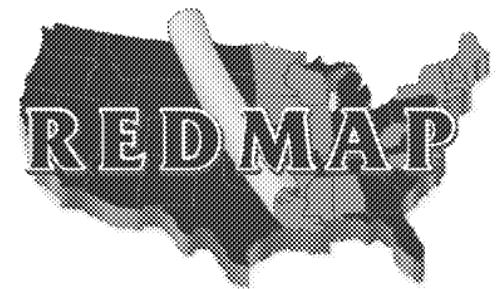

Congressional Redistricting:
Drawing Maps for the Next Five Elections

Question:

How do we create 20-25 new Republican Congressional districts over the next five cycles and solidify a Republican Congressional majority?

● ● ●

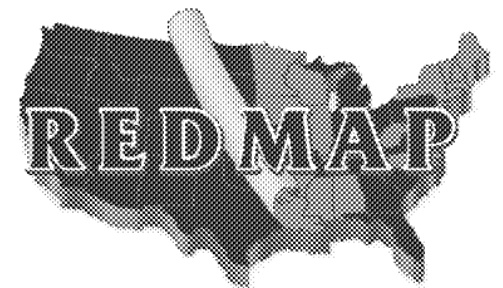

Congressional Redistricting: Drawing Maps for the Next Five Elections

Answer: Control the redistricting process!

[In the 1990s] Republicans probably gained 25 or 30 seats from the new district maps, an important factor in the party's winning control of the House in 1994.

The New York Times, Sept. 20, 2002, p A25

To control the process in 2011, or at least have a seat at the table: winning, defending and increasing state legislative majorities must be a priority.

● ● ● | Maps Matter:

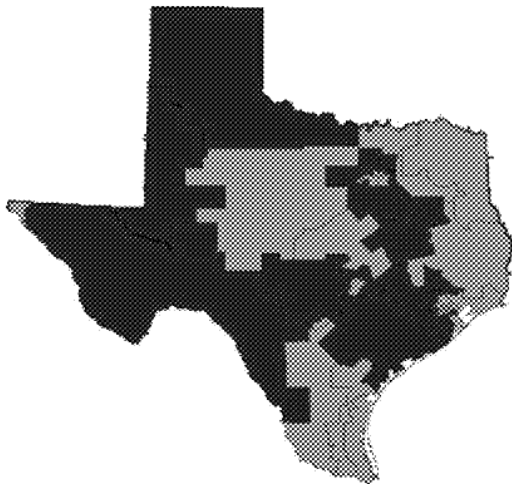

The First Tool in Winning Elections

Texas Example:

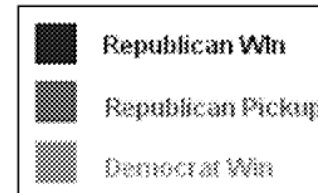

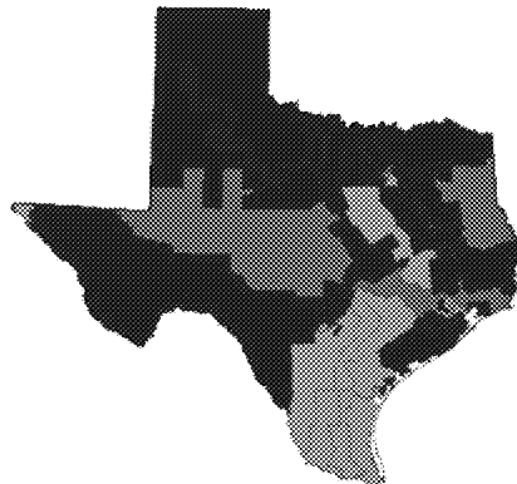

Before Republicans won control of the Texas state legislature in 2002, Democrats had a 17-15 edge in the Congressional delegation.

After flexing their majority to change the district maps, Republicans won 21 seats to the Democrats 11 in 2004 – a six seat swing from 2002.¹

2002 Election Results

2004 Election Results

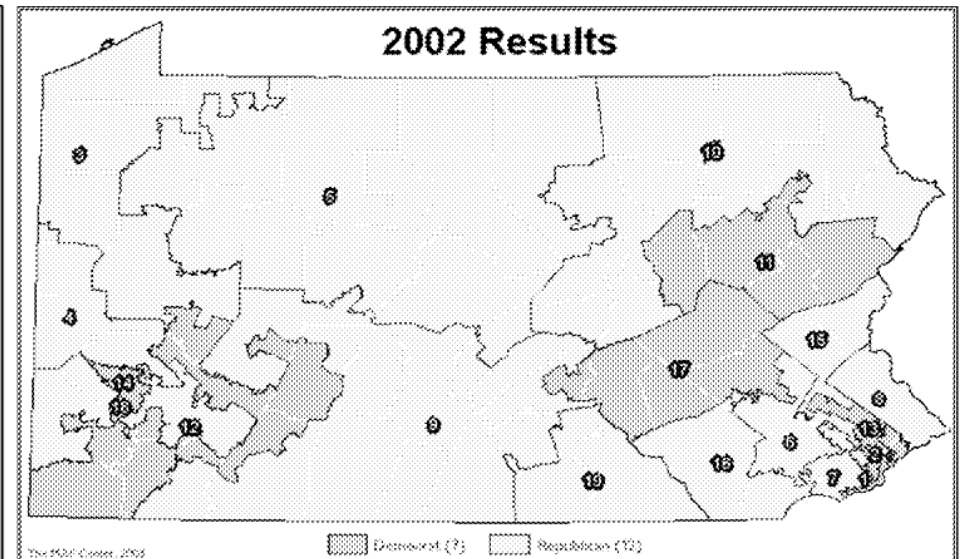

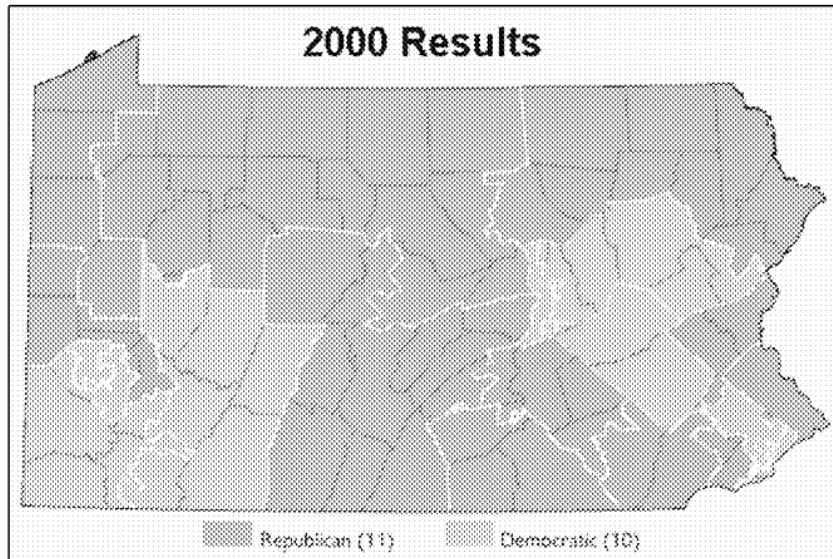

¹The Supreme Court later ordered the redrawing of one district which resulted in the current delegation of 20 Republicans to 12 Democrats.

Maps Matter: The First Tool in Winning Elections

Pennsylvania Example:

The Pennsylvania delegation in 2000 was 11 Republicans and 10 Democrats, and was set to lose two Congressional seats in reapportionment. The Republican controlled legislature drew maps that put two Democrat Congressman into the same district and another in a heavy Republican district.

The delegation went to 12 Republicans and 7 Democrats after the 2002 election with the new Republican maps.

Maps Matter:

The First Tool in Winning Elections

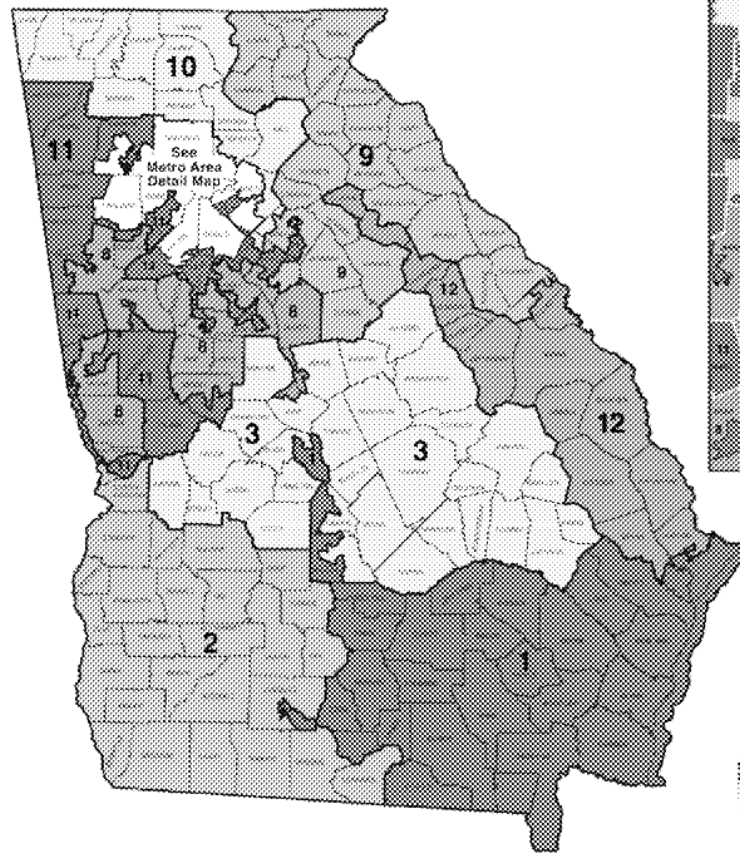

Georgia Example:

Georgia received two additional Congressional seats in reapportionment but Democrats controlled the state House, Senate, and Governor after the 2000 election.

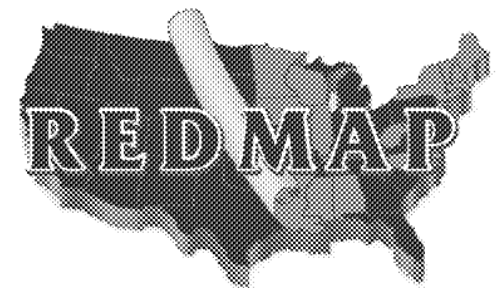

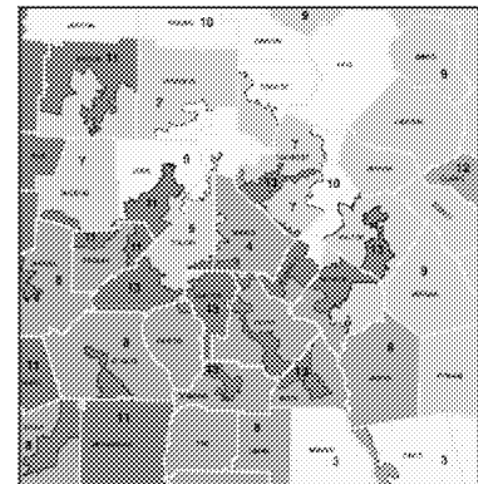

Total Democrat control and a desire to maximize black Democrat representation resulted in a highly gerrymandered map.¹

Democrats won both new seats in 2002.

Georgia Congressional Districts
Effective 2002 Election

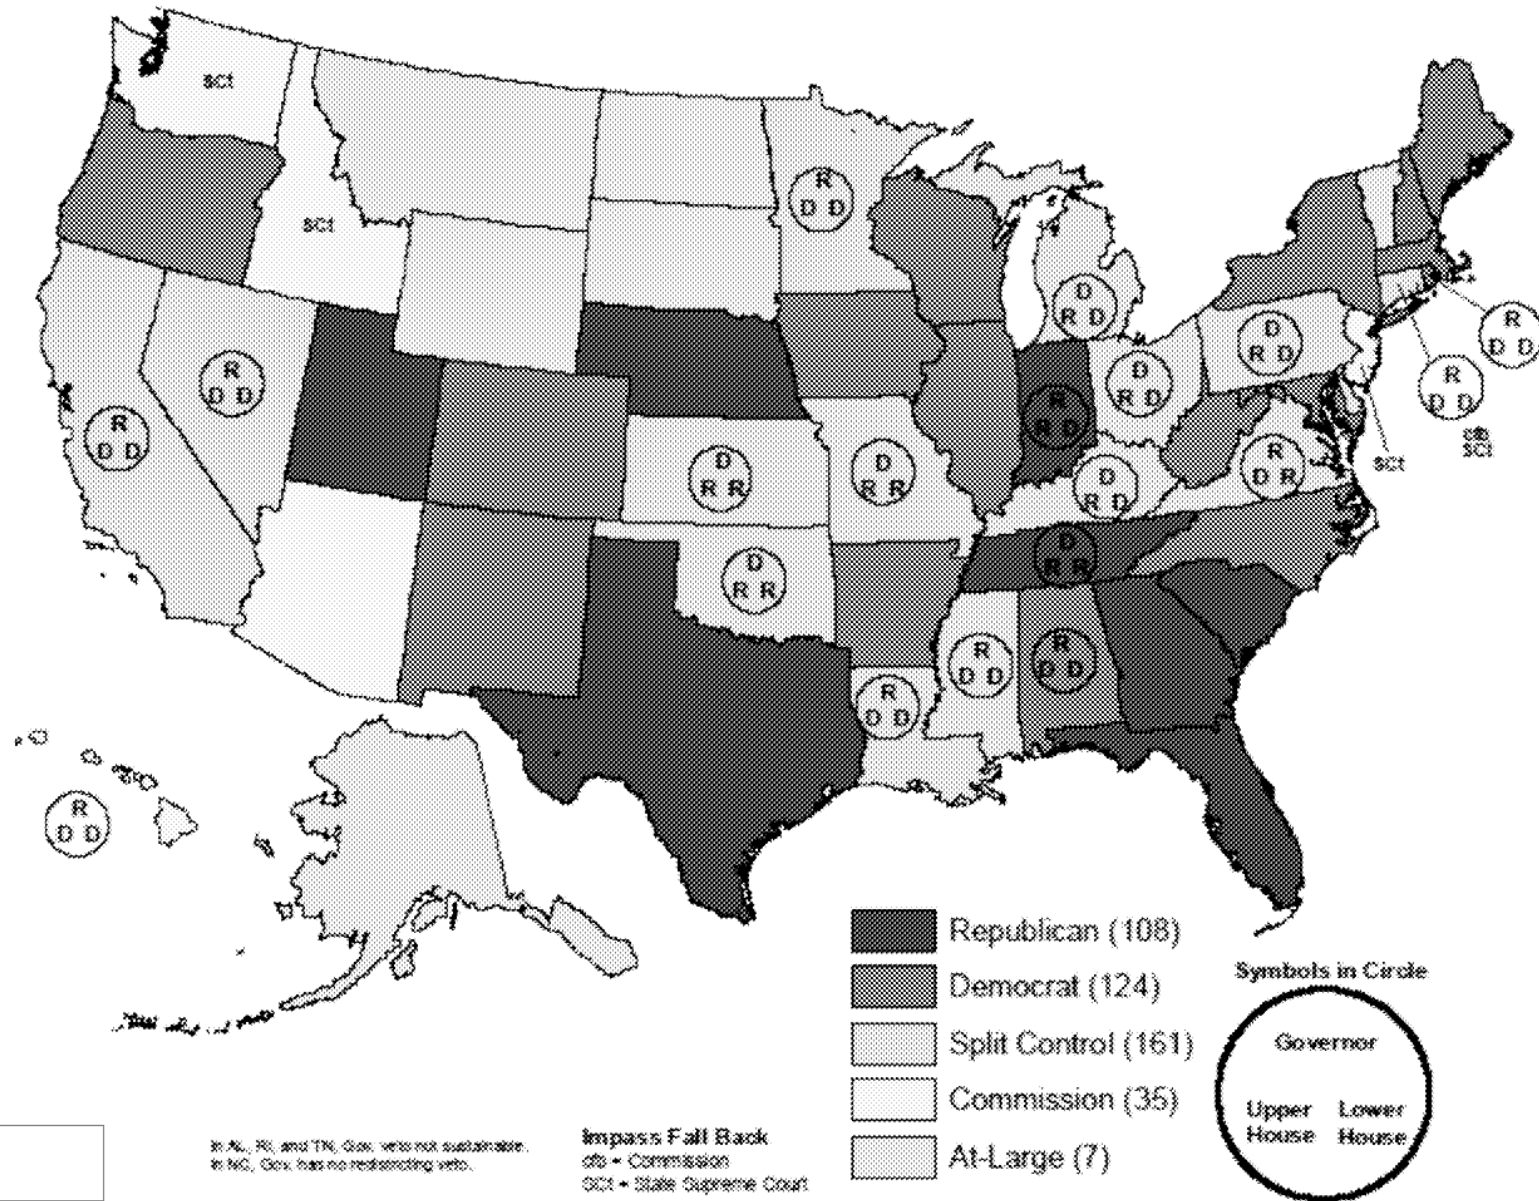

Georgia Congressional Districts
Metro Area Detail Map
Effective 2002 Election

¹The map was thrown out by the courts resulting in a redraw for the 2006 elections.

Current Party Control: Congressional Redistricting

What will it take in 2010?

The cost of 20-25 new Republican Congressional districts for the next five cycles through redistricting?

$31.5 million
non-federal “soft”
dollars spent on 2010 state
legislative races

The cost of competing in 20-25 competitive swing or Democrat leaning Congressional districts for the next five cycles?¹

$255 million
federal “hard” dollars over the next 10 years

¹ The average cost of a competitive winning U.S. House race in 2008 (margin of 5% or less) was $2.04 million.

What will it take in 2010?

There are more than 6,000 state legislative races in 2010. If Republicans win 107 key races in 16 states we will:

- ✓ Fully control or affect the drawing of 9 new Congressional districts awarded during 2011 reapportionment.
Florida (+1), Georgia (+1), Nevada (+1), South Carolina (+1), Texas (+4), Utah (+1)
- ✓ Affect the redrawing of maps in 5 states losing 6 Congressional districts during 2011 reapportionment.
Iowa (-1), Michigan (-1), Ohio (-2), Pennsylvania (-1), New York (-1)
- ✓ Strengthen Republican redistricting power by flipping 15 chambers from Democrat to Republican control and defending Republican majorities in 9 chambers.

Alabama House & Senate

Indiana House

Kentucky Senate (Defend)

Nevada Senate

North Carolina House & Senate

Oklahoma House & Senate (Defend)

Pennsylvania House

Texas House & Senate (Defend)

Colorado House & Senate

Iowa House

Michigan Senate (Defend)

New York Senate

Ohio Senate (Defend) & House

Oregon Senate

Tennessee House & Senate (Defend)

Wisconsin Assembly & Senate

Republican State Leadership Committee: Unmatched Record of State Legislative Success

2003-2004

- New Republican Majorities:
 - ✓ Georgia House
 - ✓ Indiana House
 - ✓ Oklahoma House
 - ✓ Tennessee Senate
- Strengthened Republican numbers in 26 chambers

2005 – 2006

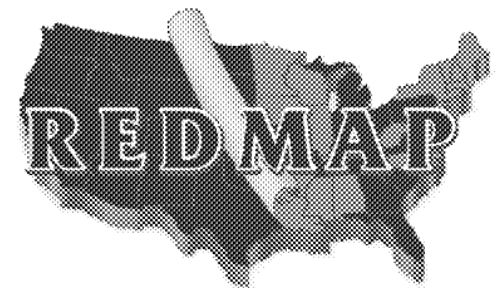

- New Republican Majorities:
 - ✓ Montana House
 - ✓ Tied the Montana Senate
- Strengthened Republican numbers in 10 chambers

2007 - 2008

- New Republican Majorities:
 - ✓ Oklahoma Senate
 - ✓ Montana Senate
 - ✓ Tennessee House
 - ✓ Tennessee Senate
- Strengthened Republican numbers in 9 chambers

2009

- Republican Legislative Gains in New Jersey and Virginia:
 - ✓ Picked up six seats in the Virginia House of Delegates, defeating eight Democrat incumbents
 - ✓ Picked up one seat in the New Jersey Assembly
- Since election day 2008, Republicans have won 51 state legislative special elections netting thirteen seats (As of 4/14/10)

REDMAP: REDistricting MAjority Project

A program of the Republican State Leadership Committee

Ed Gillespie – RSLC Chairman

- Former RNC Chairman, Republican Party of Virginia Chairman, and Counselor to President George W. Bush

The Honorable Tom Reynolds - RSLC Vice-Chairman and REDMAP Chair

- Former NRCC Chairman and US Representative (NY-26), and former New York State Assembly Republican Leader

REDMAP Steering Committee

Mike Duncan – former RNC Chairman

The Honorable Bill Brock – former US Senator and RNC Chairman

The Honorable Robin Hayes – former US Representative (NC-8)

Anne Hathaway – former RNC Chief of Staff

RSLC Staff

Tim Barnes – Chairman of the Board and Finance Chairman

Christopher Jankowski – REDMAP Exec. Director

Ben Cannatti – Political Director

Sarah Fehrer – RSLC Sr. V.P., Development

Redistricting: Timeline

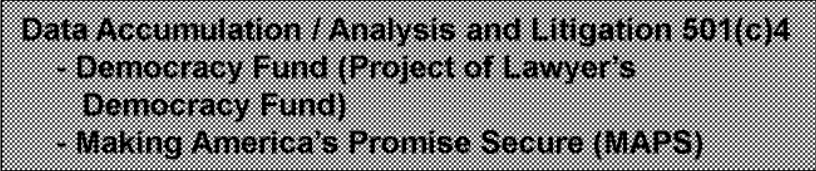

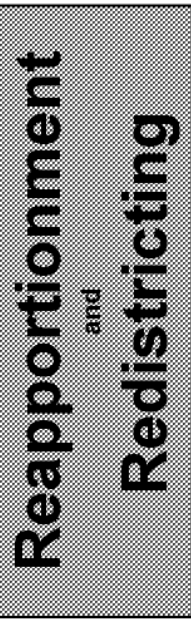

Elect GOP Majorities in State Chambers

Elect GOP Governors

GOP Congressional Liaison

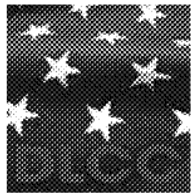

Democrats are Organized and Well-Funded

→ “Democrats already have a galaxy of at least six national groups coordinating on state legislative races. Among them are the union-based Foundation for the Future, the Democratic Legislative Campaign Committee, and the Democracy Alliance. The last group has distributed $110 million for down-ballot races in recent years.”

- Karl Rove, Wall Street Journal, March 4, 2010

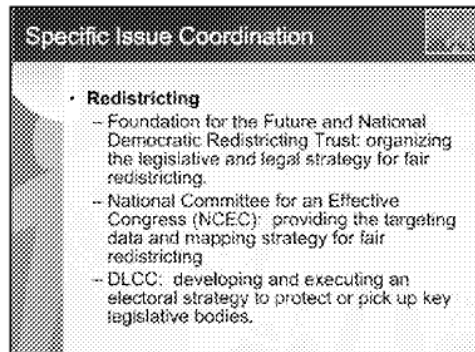

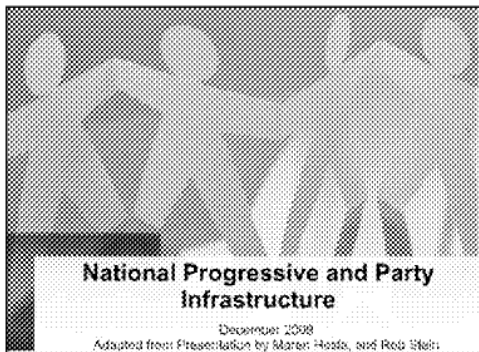

→ “[W]e have established the DLCC’s Redistricting Fund to deploy $20 million to races that will have the greatest impact on reapportionment.”

- Memo from Michael Sargeant, DLCC Executive Director, to “Democratic Leaders & Activists,” March 15, 2010

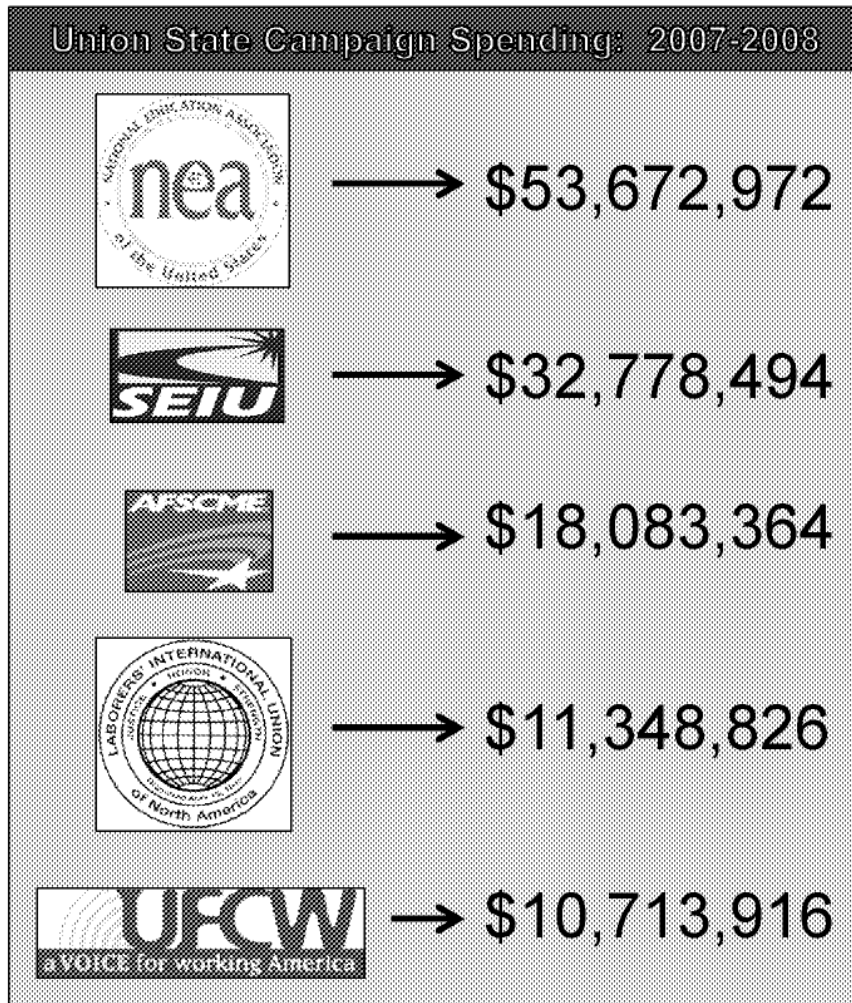

→ Project SuRGe (Stop Republican Gerrymandering) headed by Harold Ickes will raise millions of dollars to support Democrat redistricting election efforts.

- Washington Post, March 22, 2010, p. A2

“An Online Blueprint of the Left,” Washington Examiner, 1/8/10

Democrats are Organized and Well-Funded Focused on State Campaigns

$126,597,572

on
State Elections Last Cycle

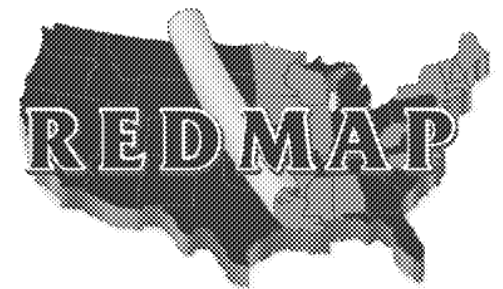

Only

4% = $5,383,701

to Republican Candidates

Why should you give to RSLC-REDMAP for Redistricting?

- ✓ 100% of money raised into the RSLC-REDMAP will be spent on political operations for the 2010 state legislative elections important to Congressional redistricting.
- ✓ The RSLC experienced leadership is headed by Ed Gillespie, Chairman, and former Congressman Tom Reynolds, Vice-Chairman, along with professional fundraising, political and compliance staff with the infrastructure and history of operating in all target redistricting states.
- ✓ The RSLC can accept unlimited contributions from individuals, corporations, and PACs.
- ✓ The RSLC has raised an average of more than $20 million per two-year cycle from more than 80,000 donors. Over and above our normal fundraising during the 2009-2010 cycle we plan to raise another $20 million into RSLC-REDMAP.

REDMAP: REDistricting MAjority Project

A program of the Republican State Leadership Committee

Paid for by Republican State Leadership Committee
1800 Diagonal Road, Suite 230
Alexandria, Virginia 22314

www.rslc.com

www.redistrictingmajorityproject.com

www.statenewsshot.com

www.twitter.com/rslc

Contributions to the RSLC are not used for federal election activity or to influence a federal election.

Contributions or gifts to the Republican State Leadership Committee and its affiliated state PACs are not tax deductible. Contributions may be used for activities of the RSLC and its affiliated state PACs at the RSLC's sole discretion. The RSLC does not accept earmarked contributions. Contributions from foreign nationals are not solicited or permitted.

